Dear Friend,

Win a once in a lifetime trip for two to visit a GlobalGiving project of your choice!

GlobalGiving.co.uk has just launched a travel writing competition with the winner receiving a trip for two to a country of their choice and a chance to visit a GlobalGiving project!*

To enter, just submit a short anecdote, story or encounter that describes an 'act of kindness' you have experienced whilst travelling (maximum 100 words).

Maybe you were lost in the Medina in Marrakesh and a friendly market stall owner gave you directions? Or you got chatting to some students on a train from Delhi and were invited to a sensational three day Indian wedding celebration? Whatever your adventure, enter your story and be in with a chance of winning!

You can also read experiences of other people, including Channel 4's Jon Snow and Radio 5's Anita Anand.

Once you have recounted your travel experience, why not give an 'act of kindness' back to a community in the developing world by donating to one of the featured project delivered by our competition charity partner The Travel Foundation.

Have fun and good luck!

The GlobalGiving.co.uk Team

*Terms and Conditions apply. The closing date for the competition is 22nd July 2009.
