

6 Embroidery cots to tribal to earn income

Investment in women and girls is a proven path to reduce poverty. They are disadvantaged when it comes to employment, education, and work skills. They are also abused sexually, physically, mentally and psychologically.

CHHASE equipped to empower deprived, disadvantaged and under privileged women and girls through sewing, embroidery and computer training to give them a better tomorrow, by promoting equality in the society. Self help group is to meet emergency needs on the basis of mutual help

CHHASE aims to improve economic status of women and their families through business skills and education. The secret of training is to empower, restore and regenerate women and improve their status. Last two years, we provided training to 180 women

During training, which is going now for 6 tribal women and will be concluded on 29.12.12, CHHASE found tribal women(youth),who are very poor, who are not able to buy Embroidery cots, which is beyond their buying capacity.

Providing Embroidery cots to these tribal women, They can do embroidery work on sarees, blouse pieces or on long cloth(30 metre).They will use their imagination of creating their own design and include the samiki,glass and pattu work and earn their daily bread.
